ANIMAL CONTROL

ANIMAL CONTROL

In Summary

It should be noted that due to many complaints about wild/feral cats, we have been working in several areas within the county on trapping feral cats out of the community so that the population does not continue to rise. These are listed as owner surrender because the property owner is surrendering the cats to the shelter. This has greatly contributed to the number of cats brought into the shelter. Feral cats are unaltered, unsocial and considered unadoptable to a home environment. This also explains the rise in euthanasia for cats in 2016.

2016 has been a record year in reducing the euthanasia rate for dogs down to 28 out of 252 and all dog euthanasia was due to aggression, bites or illness making the dog unadoptable.

We spend a lot of time advertising our adoptable and stray animals on Facebook and continue to see great success from this. We also closely monitor Craigslist for lost or found pet posts, contributing to many animals being returned to their owners. Often stray pets are posted on Facebook using a mobile I-phone by the road Officer and claimed by their owner before the lost pet even arrives at the shelter.

We also offer the public the opportunity to text photos of their lost pets and post them to our website as a service to help them be reunited with their pets. Social media has played an amazing role in adopting, returning and generally helping animals. It has also helped with community awareness.

We also continue to spend a lot of time grooming, bathing, flea treating and training animals in our facility.

All animals, both stray and adoptable, are photographed and posted daily. We work closely with local veterinarians and local rescue groups. Donors such as Merrie Corbett with Adams Madams in Central Lake and Shorts Brewery have continued to donate thousands of dollars to local veterinarians for spaying and neutering, flea control and other medical needs for shelter animals.

We have also had a donor request to donate all of the dog food expected to be needed in 2017. Rescue groups such as With a Little Help from my Friends regularly come and take one or two animals from our facility to adopt in their sanctuary. AC PAW is also active in several counties in Northern Michigan helping intercept and place homeless animals into new homes.

These groups also regularly help with adoptable animals facing long recovery periods due to medical issues.

There is an officer patrolling the county four to six hours a day, five days a week. Often we are able to solve a lot of the problems found by educating and working with the citizens. We believe our presence in the community and our availability has contributed to the number of complaints going down significantly over the years.

In summary, it has been another successful year at Animal Control. We appear to still be on the right track to growing to meet the needs of Antrim County citizens and domestic animals.

The charts on the next page represent the last six years at the Antrim County Animal Shelter.

QUICK FACTS

As we start the new year and review 2016 figures, Zero Tolerance program has seen significant changes. The first and foremost is a decrease in testing clients. Thus, resulting in a revenue decrease. In 2015 Zero Tolerance had a profit of $19,081.64. The 2016 figures show a profit of $13,191.72. The difference in income is -$5,889.92. The loss of the probate grant and the Charlevoix MDOC contract have impacted our profit margin. The decrease in testing clients have effected revenue by the following: PBT -$5,060.00 and Urinalysis -$10,970.00

2016 was a great year. With the state changing the legal limit to .08, we ran into less people operating intoxicated. More people were having a designated driver/operator. The Marine Department ran with less officers making the hours lower compared to 2015.
